NATIONWIDE PREPARATION FOR BIG STRIKE

President Calls Conference Attempt to Prevent Walkout Oct. 30

CITIES PREPARE AID

Trucks May Be Used to Transport Food Products Across Nation

(By United Press)

Moves to prevent a nation-wide strike and preparations to meet it if it did materialize, were made today. With assurances from high officials that railroads would be kept running, President Harding had under consideration the calling of a conference of railroad men and executives to avert the strike.

When union leaders in Cleveland were informed of the conference plan, they said they would answer the call to attend if President Harding sent it out.

At the same time from headquarters in Cleveland and Chicago, the railroad union men went ahead with strike preparations such as sending out of the formal call for the walkout beginning progressively on October 30.

In Chicago a meeting of unions other than the Big Four brotherhoods was planned. Throughout the country today mayors and governors prepared for measures to prevent any shortage of food and fuel because of the strike.

Despite advices to the contrary from Chicago coal men, a poll of large cities indicated there was enough of a coal supply to run for several weeks at least. Food stocks generally are not low although many of the smaller cities without large storage facilities might be inconvenienced. Mobilization of motor trucks to haul food in case they are needed was the plan hit upon in practically every city. Kansas City was preparing to use airplanes.

It is not believed, however, that the hauling of milk and other perishables will be interferred with. Industries in every section of the country will be affected by a strike.

SCHOOL GIRL IS STILL MISSING; POLICE SEND ALARM

Lured Away From Glendale Is Now General Belief of Local Police

Jessie Wyhte, who mysteriously dropped from sight last Wednesday while on her way to school at the San Fernando Academy, has not been found nor has any clue been uncovered that might lead to her whereabouts.

The girl has been living with Mrs. Frederick Paap, 1416 East California street, for several years and for the past few months has been attending the San Fernando Academy. According to Mrs. Paap, the girl has always been very quiet and devoted to her studies. She had no sweetheart as far as is known and it is the belief of Mrs. Paap that the girl had no near friends among the boys or the girls. She was always chaperoned if she went out in the evening, according to Mrs. Paap.

When Jessie dropped from sight she was dressed in a blue serge dress and had no hat. None of her clothes are missing and it is the belief of Mrs. Paap that if the girl really ran away of her own accord she did so on the impulse of the moment. It is the belief of the police and others connected with the case that the girl was lured away for she was very devoted to her home and studies.

She is described as very pretty, 16 years old, weight about 125 pounds, and is of medium height. Police over the state have been asked to watch for her and if found to notify Chief of Police Martin.

According to rumor, the principle of the school the Wyhte girl was attending when she disappeared is said to have told Los Angeles authorities that the girl told her that she was leaving the school and that her mother, presumably Mrs. Paap, would call for her clothes. Mrs. Paap says that she had no knowledge of the girl's intention to leave school and from all outward appearances the girl was very interested in her studies.

BROTHERHOOD HAS ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting and banquet of the Federated Brotherhood of Glendale will be held Tuesday evening at 6:45 o'clock in the First M. E. church. Supper will be served at 50 cents a plate by the ladies of the church. Rev. H. Bromley Oxnam, pastor of the Church of all Nations, Los Angeles, will be the principal speaker. Mr. Oxnam was sent over to Europe not long ago, as a member of a commission to investigate post-war conditions. He is a forceful speaker and his address will be deeply interesting. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected at this meeting. Every man in Glandale and vicinity, whether affiliated with the brotherhood or not, is urged to attend.

There Is Something Behind the Universe That's Making It Go

Bread makes life, arsenic causes death. They have always done so—who can tell why?

What is life? Nobody knows, says Dr. Frank Crane in an article on the editorial page this evening, entitled "Strangers and Pilgrims." It gives you something to ponder over. He says that what we call knowledge is classification and that there is something for everybody behind the universe making it go. "We call it God," he says. "We but give a name to a mystery."

James W. Foley in "The Listening Post," tonight says that "now" is a very wonderful word and contrasts it to "if." Read this bit of philosophy. He says that nothing can be done in the moment that is gone or the one that is to come. It must be done now.

Henry James in his comments, also to be found on the editorial page, speaks of the sentencing of Hightower, guilty of the murder of a Catholic priest, to life imprisonment and then discusses in a thoughtful manner the question of capitl punishment in relation to life imprisonment. He also touches on several other matters of interest including gambling in grain and the threat of the government to end the sale of home brew.

Editorials on "Germany's Bitter Blow," "Police Problems" and other subjects will be found of value as well as the clippings from eastern papers. This editorial page is commended to you for your consideration. Every line is interesting.

THOS. L. HULL HOME FROM G. A. R. MEET IN INDIANAPOLIS

Tells of Meeting Many Comrades at Annual Session Civil War Veterans

Thomas L. Hull of West Colorado street, who represented N. P. Banks Post, G. A. R., at the National Encampment in Indianapolis, returned to Glendale Saturday. He reports a royal good time from the moment he boarded the train of eleven coaches which consisted the first section of the G. A. R. Special out of Los Angeles, October 11, until he again glimpsed the Verdugo hills.

He said that 9,000 veterans of the Civil War were in the parade at Indianapolis and he met many old and dear comrades. The next encampment will be held in Des Moines, Ia.

After the convention ended he visited friends and relatives in Indiana, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska. When the people he met complained of hard times, as did many, he boasted of the Golden State and particularly of Glendale, telling them we do not know what hard times are in California. It was a novel thing to him to see oranges selling in the eastern markets for 10 cents each.

Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Hull entertained a party of seventeen old friends from Whittier, Lankershim and Los Angeles, who enjoyed hearing all about the veteran's trip and the friends he met.

AMERICA'S TRIBUTE TO BRITISH HERO WAS MADE TODAY

Gen. Pershing Is Shown Almost Royal Honor by British Officials

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Amidst the splendor of a military pageant, sobered by a solemn religious ceremony, America paid tribute to Britain's unknown warrior today.

The congressional medal of honor was laid upon the grave of the unknown Tommy who lies buried in Westminster Abbey. General John Pershing was accorded almost royal honors before the ceremony, when King George sent the royal carriage to the American embassy and Pershing drove to Parliament Square in state, between long lines of troops which stretched the length of Constitution Hill and White Hall. Every possible honor was accorded the American commander in chief in an apparent effort to wipe from memory the red tape and blundering which recently nearly prevented his visit. General Pershing took an especially snappy salute from his men as he stepped from the carriage.

DR. BRUMFIELD OVER-WORKED IS WIFE'S PLEA

Dentist on Stand Tells of Lapse of Memory During Tragedy

FROM OVER WORK

Relates Meeting People Seeing Picutre in Paper During Flight

ROSEBURG, Ore., Oct. 17.—"Dr. Brumfield was mentally unbalanced by attempting to do too much." This startling declaration was made by Mrs. R. M. Brumfield, wife of the accused dentist, who is being tried for the murder of Dennis Russell, testifying at today's session of the trial. Mrs. Brumfield, first witness called by the defense, told how, in addition to his dentistry practice, Dr. Brumfield farmed a 40-acre farm, was putting 30 acres to orchard, six to loganberries and clearing 40 more acres of stumps.

"Usually Dr. Brumfield would arise before daylight and work until 8 o'clock. Then he would go to his office and work all day," Mrs. Brumfield testified, attempting still further to strengthen Brumfield's insanity plea. "When he came home in the evening he would go out and work some more. This constant strain brought on violent headaches, partial blindness, forgetfulness, sleeplessness, and sleep walking. Many times I was awakened by the doctor coming back to bed after he had been walking in his sleep."

Dr. Brumfield took the stand and told in precise English and with well chosen phrases the story of his lapse of memory extending over a month.

It was during this period that he killed Dennis Russell, beheaded the body, and nearly cremated it on the wreck of his own automobile, according to the state's charge.

The story of lapse of memory, the collapse at the Meredith ranch house,

BABE RUTH TO FACE JUDGE LANDIS FOR VIOLATING RULE

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Defying Judge Landis, high commissioner of baseball, Babe Ruth today left for Elmira, on his barnstorming trip. Judge Landis ruled that no member of the Yankees or Giants could participate in post-season games. Directly challenging Landis' authority, Ruth, Bill Piercy, Tom Sheehan and Bob Meusel, all of the Yankees, took part in a game against the Polish Nationals here yesterday.

"I have done my duty to the American League," Ruth said. "If it is against organized baseball law that I can't play in the 'off season' I think it is unfair, unjust and un-American. We will continue our tour."

Piercy, Sheehan and Meusel announced emphatically that they entirely agreed with Ruth. Ruth, playing here yesterday, did not appear handicapped by the infected arm which forced him out of the world series. He poled one home run. His team won, 4 to 2. They played on a sand lot, as the International League was barred to them.

Arriving at his office in Chicago today, Judge Landis took under advisement the alleged violation of baseball law by Ruth, Bob Meusel and Bill Piercy.

"Ruth, on the face of the evidence, violated provisions of the baseball law that I had no hand in making," said Landis. "I inherited the rules of the game when I became head of baseball and I am going to see that the rules are enforced." Landis, in his high position, can suspend Ruth and the others for a period of time or outlaw them forever from organized baseball.

NINE GAMES SHOWN TO BE FALLACY IN WORLD SERIES

Believed That Seven-Game Schedule Will Be Followed in Future

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—After sixteen years back in the second or third row, John J. McGraw sat on top of the baseball world today. His Giants were the champions of the world and his triumph was complete. Young "Eirean" Ward and the never-failing Roger Peckinpaugh enabled the National Giants to win the world's series without an earned run in the two last games.

Ward wobbled in the seventh game and paved the way for the Giants' victory. The impregnable Peck cracked in the pinch yesterday and knocked the props out from under Waite Hoyt's brilliant game.

Judge Landis said today that two more closely matched clubs and two with more fighting spirit never played in a world series and most of the 269,976 fans who saw the eight games were agreeable with him. McGraw said before going into the series that it looked like the limit, meaning nine games and that pitching would be the edge. Pitching did decide the series. The Yanks were finished yesterday. Had they won behind Hoyt they would have had no one to start today.

The fallacy of the nine games series was so much brought to light in this series that Judge Landis is going to propose a return to the old standard of seven games. Players and fans alike were fatigued by eight games here and the feeling was shown yesterday when the big Brush Stadium was just a little more than half filled. If New York can't pack the Polo Grounds for a world's series, something is missing.

The series, regardless of two small crowds, established an attendance and receipts record. The paid attendance for the eight games amounted to $900,233 from 269,976 spectators. This was $177,819 more than the previous record made in 1919 when the Cincinnati Reds and the Chicago White Sox were playing. The attendance was also 18,075 greater.

The Giants, as the winning club, gets $5,265 each and each Yankee will get $3,510. The Cleveland Indians and the Pittsburgh Pirates, second in the two leagues, will divide $43,878, and the two St. Louis clubs, which finished third, will split $29,252. The advisory board will take $135,034 and the club owners get the balance of $472,675.

TRI MU CONCERT ALL READY TO GO

The stage is all set for the concert and high jinx that will be enjoyed by the Tri Mu Class of the First Baptist Sunday school, Thursday evening. The program, which will be rendered in the auditorium of the church, will consist of selections by members of one of the leading male musical organizations in Los Angeles, as well as excellent numbers by local talent. After the program the "high jinx" will be held in the basement of the church. During the evening refreshments will be served. All young men of Glendale are invited to this affair, to which no admission fee will be charged.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmothers made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep their locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

London Filled With Yankees Following Big Coal Strike

LONDON. Oct. 17.—Despite the gloomy picture of London which was painted in American minds by the coal strike and by travelers who reported on the dullness of London summer life, the American tourist is not giving England the goby, after all.

Early in the summer he passed right on to Paris, or if he stopped off at London he treated it as a way station and passed on quickly to the more seductive path through France. Brussels, too, he preferred to London. For reasons unspecified Americans have been heard to remark hereabouts that nowadays, after a week in Brussels, one goes on to Paris for a rest.

Certain it was that London wasn't an American summer resort, nor were her famous seaports, nor her historic centers.

But the strike ended, and very quickly vast hotels that had contained more servants by far than guests began to put out "standing room only" signs, and Americans with money for the best found themselves turned into drab family hotels in side streets. The almighty dollar itself wouldn't buy them a suite at the brilliant palace of their choice.

The Yankee is loose all over England again. Move about a bit and listen and you can identify the East, West, North and South.

Quite frequently he will be wondering why—audibly—in a country that has not gone dry there are so many hours of the day when there is a pronounced drought. He cannot understand why he can't have a drink after 10 o'clock, or buy cigarettes after 8 p. m.

Neither do many Englishmen. They are agitating sedately against the restrictions, and one line of argument is that, because of these restrictions the country isn't getting as much of the tourists' money as it should.

London Rest Cure

London at best is a rest cure after the gay night life of the Continent, for here there's nothing left to do but go to bed after one has done a theater. And as for midnight excursions, with a hope of a "bite" or two before going to bed—it isn't done. It can't be done, except by having your driver take you to a cabstand, curbstone lunch wagon.

A well-known American actress gave a most miraculous dance to a score of friends recently in a big hotel. She managed it by having them sit still after the lights went out at midnight in the regular ballroom. After allowing due time for most of the party to leave, the light came on again, a wonderful supper was set out and dancing was continued until 4 in the morning. It probably was illegal. It certainly was irregular. And, anyway, everybody from the States who is tripping to England just now, with money to spend and an inclination for parties, doesn't know a well-known American actress.

Bedtime Comes Early

So for nearly all what is sometimes termed "just the shank of the evening" becomes perforce bedtime.

The Yankee, of course, goes history hunting, and there he meets his kind by the hundreds. For the Englishman, with a few recent exceptions, isn't curious about his historical relics, birthplaces, etc., however much he may be bound by tradition in the manner of his living.

The American patronage of historic centers is such that on occasion tablets and notices are found testifying to the fact that it is only the patronage of American tourists which enables the custodians to keep such places in a state of preservation and staffed with guides and lecturers.

WAR PUNISHMENT FOR RADICALISM

LONDON, Oct. 17.—That the great war was ordered by God as a punishment of England for her growing radicalism and for putitng a radical government into power, is the startling assertion of an eminent scientist, Dr. Albert Churchward.

The charge is an interlude in an otherwise purely scientific book on "The Origin and Evolution of the Human Race."

"To what end did the Divine Creator order this war to be?" Dr. Churchward asks.

"I believe His will is for the continuance of the British race—the highest type of human development at present—and that the war was ordained for the destruction of Socialism, or so-called Democracy, which was beginning to eat the life out of the country, to cause us to suffer so that we should open our eyes, that we might commence again and stamp out this Socialistic vampire.

"The Divine Creator will not allow any nation to exist if it becomes socialistic. For men to preach Socialism under the name of 'democratic principles, democratic nations, democratic everything,' is certain to bring destruction upon that nation.

CITY OFFICIALS TO SAMPLE ALL LOLLY-POPS NOW

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 17.—Mayor Archibald, of Newark, has run into a situation which seemed to call for the training of a Hoover and the diplomacy of a Lloyd George. He "passed the buck" to two able assistants—James Arthur, his confidential clerk, and Police Sergeant Joseph McGrath, the husky bluecoat who guards the entrance to the Mayor's office.

As a result these two officials, dignity or no dignity, will spend their Sunday purchasing and sampling lolly-pops in the Third ward of Newark to determine whether or not the makers of these confections have been holding out on sugar.

A determined-looking blue-eyed urchin marched up to McGrath and announced that he wanted to see the Mayor. He wouldn't tell McGrath his errand, and he wouldn't be turned aside. Arthur was called in by McGrath and he, too, failed to turn the lad back.

Finally the youngster was admitted to the august presence of the city's chief executive.

He announced that he had come to ask the Mayor to make the manufacturers of lolly-pops put more sugar in the candy. Lolly-pops have been "going off" in sugar content, he said, for some time and the condition was not to be tolerated longer. Something must be done, and if the Mayor wasn't the man to fix it up why was he mayor, or words to that effect.

Mayor Archibald gravely informed his caller that he would investigate the condition and take appropriate action. He instructed Arthur and McGrath to spend Sunday investigating the complaint and to make reports on Monday.

It makes a man feel pretty small to think that if he were to die tomorrow one of the chief worries of the rest of the force tomorrow would be how much they would be expected to contribute for flowers without appearing cheap.

Here's why CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigaretty aftertaste,

It's Camels for you.

Nervy Railway Service Man To Receive Reward

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 17.—For volunteering and acting as the man mail robbers intended to kill, on carrying through his part up to the instant of the time set to kill him, Alvin S. Page, assistant chief clerk of the Eastern Mail Service at Fort Worth, Tex., has been summoned to Washington by Postmaster General Hays to receive a personal expression of appreciation and reward.

The attempted robbery occurred about midnight Sept. 14 just west of Fort Worth. Previous conclusive information of the attempt had been obtained by detectives, a statement from Mr. Hays' office said, adding that the information indicated that one or two robbers would enter the train on its leaving Fort Worth and hold up the messenger in charge of the mails, and when the train reached the place where the mail was to be thrown off the messenger would be killed.

"With full knowledge of the arrangements," said the statement "including the fact that it was planned to kill him, Alvin S. Page volunteered to act as the messenger to be held up. Regular Messenger McLondon also volunteered, but Page was selected owing to his more intimate knowledge of the bandits' plans. Following the program and at the time agreed upon, Page entered the car and assumed the role of messenger in charge of the mails.

Before the train left Fort Worth Postoffice Inspector T. D. Hawkins and F. C. Ellis and Deputy United States Marshal Douglas Campbell and the regular messenger, McLondon, concealed themselves in the car.

"The train left Fort Worth at 11:40 o'clock, ten minutes late. In about one minute one robber, J. L. Morris, alias Charlie Morris, alias Indian Charlie, entered the mail car and covered Page with his revolver, commanding him to throw up his hands, disarmed him and held him covered while he required Page to deliver the keys and pull the pouches to the door.

"The train was then approaching the place where the bandit had planned to throw off the mail, and Morris required Page to open the door for this purpose. Under the plans of the bandits the time had now arrived for Morris to kill Page. Accordingly the inspector, marshal and messenger opened fire and killed Morris.

"The mail was then thrown off at the place where it was known the bandits had planned to get it. Inspector C. W. R. Long and L. W. Morris, with other agents of the department of justice and railroad and express agents were concealed at this point and endeavored to capture William T. Edwards, who was receiving the pouches. As they approached he opened fire on them and they shot and killed him. The pouches were put back on the same train and the train proceeded."

Stage money had been substituted in the pouches prior to leaving Fort Worth, and the money pouches had been hidden elsewhere.

HALLS RETURN HOME FROM 13 WEEK TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hall of 319 North Maryland avenue, have returned to Glendale after a vacation of thirteen weeks, most of which was spent in the Mammoth Lake country. While in the mountains, Mr. and Mrs. Hall made their headquarters at Lake Mary, where they enjoyed many side trips to the lakes in that section. Mr. Hall says they caught all kind of trout. In Crytal Lake they caught a number of Golden trout, and caught Eastern Brook trout in Skelton lakes, Lock Level and Rainbow trout in Twin Lakes, and Rainbow trout in many of the streams in that locality. The best stream fishing enjoyed was had in San Jauquin river.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall have an excellent selection of pictures which they took on their trip, one of which is the Devil's Post Pile, composed of rocks 150 feet high. While away, Mr. and Mrs. Hall joined a party composed of Mr. and Mrs. Baird and Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Young, and together they enjoyed a trip into the Mt. Lassen country.

John Crofton of St. Louis, Mo., who has been spending the past two months with his brother, John Crofton, 208 North Maryland avenue, left Thursday for his home in the eastern city.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get slugish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acids of grapes and lemon joice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acid in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

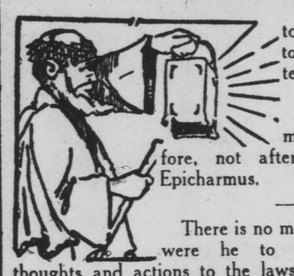
Truths in Epigram



Other men live to eat, but I eat to live. — Socrates.

The wise man must be wise before, not after, the event.—Epicharmus.

There is no man so good, who, were he to submit all his thoughts and actions to the laws, would not deserve hanging ten times in his life.—Montaigne.

GERMANY'S BITTER BLOW

Within a few days leading men of Germany declared that the government must stand or fall by the decision pertaining to Silesia. By this they meant that if the decision should be hostile to German hopes, the government must end in failure. They could see no hope of saving it.

Probably any sort of government in Germany would be far more advantageous to civilization than a condition of chaos there. The world has not been unsympathetic to the German republic. In France the fear has been constant that in some way Germany was to rise again to dangerous proportions as a military power. It is difficult, after examining the condition in which the war has left Germany, to figure out a legitimate basis for this fearfulness. In the matter of commercial rivalry Germany had to be considered, but it is not customary to crush a government for the sake of crushing business competition.

The blow that Germany had anticipated with dread seems to have fallen. The part of Silesia it desired, and that desired to be of Germany, falls to Poland. Doubtless this suits Polish ambition and purpose, but it does not suit the Silesians affected. Therefore doubts exist that it will make for peace.

Among the stated objects of the League of Nations is that of keeping the peace of Europe. Time will reveal whether or not the recent step was a step in the direction of tranquility.

TOO MUCH BASEBALL

Baseball retains its right to be termed the national pastime. For the days devoted to the series of championship games, interest centered in the contests. Three thousand miles away from the Polo grounds thousands were clustered about bulletin boards cheering the results play by play.

Victory went to the New York Giants. There is in baseball an element of luck sufficient to prevent determination by a single series, of the superiority of either team. There is no assurance, for example, that in another similar series the Americans might not come off victors. Ruth, most potent unit of their side, was out from illness. Another player on who great dependence had been placed was dropped from the line by reason of injury. Yet the Giants deserved their triumph, and friends of the opposition can say nothing but "Better luck next time!"

Nine games, however, is too many. There is difficulty in sustaining interest throughout in a match so prolonged. The old plan of seven, the championship going to the winner of four, was more satisfactory to the public. The additional games are likely to be regarded as purely a box-office proposition.

Nobody will begrudge the players the money they receive. The later games do not benefit the players but the league managements, and there had been a highly profitable season to the managements regardless of the public's final contribution.

AIDING CRIME

Officers of the law make distinct charges that the probation law as applied, is an aid to crime. The figures they cite as proof seem to support their contention perfectly.

That the first-time offender, particularly if young, should be given a chance, and for this reason, be allowed to go without a jail experience, seems reasonable enough. The trouble is that there appears to be no limit to the probationary clemency. A youth of criminal inclination soon understands that if he commits a crime while the first period of probation continues, he is welcome to a second period. Courts frequently ignore the overlapping of the periods. Hardened young criminals have been given probation more than half a dozen times, the latest probation of the lot falling within the time covered by the first. That is a way to teach contempt of the law.

There are boys in the large cities of California who think nothing of arrest and arraignment. They know in advance that the worst to happen to them will be a mild judicial admonition. For this they care not at all. It is a mere incident in the day's program. They have been through the process and expect to go through it again and again.

Throughout the world there is much perturbation at the showing of juvenile crime. It is ascribed to war conditions, when for a space the children, particularly in Europe, were in large measure without parental guidance. This hardly could be the explanation for the United States. Part at least of the explanation here is that juvenile crime goes so wholly unpunished that the immunity is an inspiration and an encouragement.

COURTESY IN HIGH PLACES

It is said that ex-President Wilson is to be asked to participate in the official celebration of Armistice day. The celebration this year will include the burial at Arlington of an unknown soldier. It will be a ceremony of intense interest, appealing to the hearts of the nation.

Whether Mr. Wilson shall accept or not, the courtesy of an invitation doubtless will be appreciated by him, and by his friends.

Men of different parties are after all, or rather, before all, Americans. At the inauguration of a President it is deemed necessary to have the presence of the retiring executive. When the new President is of a different party from that of his predecessor, the experience cannot be crowded with pleasure for the one going back to private life. In the acclaim of the moment he must read the judgment that has been passed on his policies. In some circumstances the truth must be forced upon him that he is regarded by the majority to have failed. Yet the outgoing President faces the ordeal bravely. So did Mr. Wilson, sick though he was, and with his political edifices crashed about him.

Wilson was the war President. It is altogether fitting that he should be, on the occasion growing so directly out of the war, side by side with the man chosen to take up the problems of government as his own weary hands relinquished them.

POLICE PROBLEMS

Sixty-six men who had taken an examination as applicants for positions on the police force of Chicago, were summarily dropped. Their records could not stand the light. Among them were ten hold-up men, six burglars, two under indictment on murder charges, a number of burglars, and ten who had been convicted of larceny.

A citizen fitted for police service necessarily is a man of high class. He must have good health, high courage, and with these attributes combine good character. This involves an absolute honesty. The duties of a policeman are important, his responsibilities great, and his service to the community of much value. Provided he is worthy of the trust. If not worthy, he is a danger instead of a safeguard.

Careless estimates of the police, generally speaking, do not give them the rating they deserve. As a rule they are devoted to duty. They spurn bribes far oftener than they take them. Here and there may be found a brutal policeman. He is the exception. Usually the police show consideration in dealing with the public, civility to strangers, and even submit to abuse from criminals they arrest such as the average private citizen never could bring himself to endure.

The police of most cities have peculiarly trying problems just now. It is the season when the folk of baser sort flock to centers of population. In many places the wave of crime is defying every barrier the police have been able to erect.

The part of the public is to uphold the police and not deride their efforts or assail their good intentions. They are, often under the handicap of small numbers, doing the best they can. If the public does not want to pay for a sufficient police force, it is deprived of the right to blame the inadequate force it does sustain.

STRANGERS AND PILGRIMS

By Dr. Frank Crane.

After all is said and done we are strangers in a strange world.

No apter name has been coined for us than the the title Pilgrims and Strangers.

There is Something or Somebody behind the universe making it go. We call it God. We but give a name to a mystery.

The scientist probes the sea, the earth, the mind. He is like a Hottentot wandering in New York. He sees many curious things and inexplicable. He endeavors with his limited intelligence to classify them.

For what we call knowledge is not at all apprehension; it is classification.

He sees things act the same way twice, three times, and proclaims a law; he has not the slightest idea why it acted in the first place.

What we term knowledge is mere familiarity; a scientist is a person who is at home with certain phenomena, those of his chosen field, or has learned from another who is at home with them, and is like the society dame who has learned how to use her spoon.

The unlearned person says all things are heavy; the learned person says every particle of matter attracts every other particle of matter in certain proportion according to the law of gravitation; the latter has simply extended his generalization a little farther than the former; he had been about more in the universe; but like his unlearned brother he, too, is a foreigner in the cosmos, and returns home to the infinite having seen strange sights.

Who can tell why bread makes life and arsenic causes death, except to say that they have always done so?

And what is life?

A ghostly visitor, whose face we have never seen.

When it is present in this mass of flesh, certain chemical reactions take place, the sum of which we call growth; when it goes away, the minute the strange spook vanishes, certain other chemical changes begin in the body, and we rot.

But what is life? Nobody knows. Nobody ever made a living thing—that is, out of anything that was not already alive.

What makes one human being grow large and another grow small? Said Professor W. J. Halliburton at a meeting of scientists the other day:

"One of the many ductless glands like the thyroid, which have an important influence on health, is the pituitary, situated at the base of the brain. This comparatively insignificant little body is about the size of a pea. It is concerned in sending out to the tissues something which stimulates growth. If it sends out too much, overgrowth results; if it sends out too little, there is dwarfism. The happy mean is what we call health."

It is supposed to be a great mystery, anything about the ductless glands.

Why the pituitary gland acts so and so is no more mysterious than why your finger nails keep growing in the night.

At the same meeting Professor Lloyd Morgan referred to "the theory that memory is stored in the brain" as "clotted nonsense."

Quite so. So is any other theory.

AT THE LISTENING POST

Now!
A very wonderful word.
The only time there is.
That is, the only time we may make use of.
Now is the only available moment in all of time.
We spell it with capitals:
NOW!

There ought to be a little indicator on the desk.
And in the mind and heart.
A little indicator saying it.
NOW!

Three little letters.
Like the little word IF.
One of the words in English that has means a lot to many people.
But rather the reverse of NOW.

For IF implies doubt and probability and wonder.
NOW is a definite certain sure thing.
We may reach out and grasp it.
As we reach out and grasp the hand of a friend.

* * *

The work there is to do.
NOW is the only time there is to do it.
For a minute from now or an hour from now the mood may have passed.
The Opportunity be gone.
NOW it is here.

This Listening Post, for instance.
It was begun just before lunch time.
And there was the temptation to lay it aside and go out to lunch.
And come back and finish it afterward.
But lunch is always obtainable.
An idea comes and flies away if it is not bidden in.

So the little indicator said:
NOW.
Not after while.
Not after lunch.
For the inspiration may be gone.
The ideas may have flown.
It may be completed, but in a cold and warmed overish fashion.

Somebody may intrude at lunch and bid you away from the desk for an hour.
Or for the afternoon.
And then it may never be done.
Something lost that might have done somebody good.
Do it NOW.

And so the second sheet went into the typewriter.
And the words came gladly and with frolic and rollick and haste.
Because they thought they were to be made use of well.

They came so fast the typebars would not move rapidly enough.
They struck one against another.
Never a pause for a word.
Because the little indicator knew what it means when it said:
NOW.

And then the third sheet went into the typewriter.
And the words filled that.
And the fourth.
Which is the last.

And so the value of the little indicator was proven.
Because there was the disposition to delay.
To let something that was not essential stand between the task and its completion.

There is the task to do.
When?
NOW.
For Now is the only time there is.
And there is the kind word to say.
When?
NOW.
For a moment, an hour, a day and the friends may be gone

There is all the potentiality of service and labor and kindness and all that in NOW.
For nothing can be done in the moment that is gone.
Or the one that is to come.

* * *

The moment gone lies in ashes.
The moment to come lies in bud.
Now is the opened blossom.
Beautiful for the fragrance of opportunity.
So—do it! Now!

SONGS OF THE POETS

"Break, Break, Break."—By Alfred Tennyson (1809-1892).

Break, break, break,
On thy cold gray stones O Sea!
And I would that my tongue could utter
The thoughts that arise in me.

O, well for the fisherman's boy,
As he shouts with his sister at play!
O, well, for the sailor lad
That he sings in his boat on the bay!

And the stately ships go on,
To their haven under the hill;
But O for the touch of a vanished hand
And the sound of a voice that is still!

Break, break, break,
At the foot of thy crags O sea!
But the tender grace of a day that is dead
Will never come back to me.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

NATION TO CONGRESS

[Chicago Tribune]

The country is unanimously back of the President's appeal to congress for expeditious legislation. Partisan politics, the vociferous demands of one-ideal minorities, the inertia of legislative routine block the way to relief. We can only pray that leadership in congress will sweep them away. Five million Americans are out of work. Business, though trying to rise, is burdened and checked. Correction of hastily imposed war taxes is imperative. The railroad situation, which lies like a load of lead on the nation, must be cleared up. The tariff must be promptly adjusted. Peace relations with Central Europe must be fixed. Until these obstructions to healthy restoration of the national energies are removed the nation must remain weak and half paralyzed.

The moment calls for clear headed, broad minded, resolute action without delay. Patriotism appeals against the demagogue, the narrow partisan, and the crank. The President has voiced that appeal and congress should rise to the occasion.

THE OVERWORKED BANQUET

[Boston Commercial Bulletin]

The public banquet with its series of uninteresting speeches is not unknown in England and in France, but it is not so overworked there as it is with us.

In every city that Marshal Foch visits he will be expected to attend a banquet, make a speech, and shake hands with a thousand or more people.

There will be formal toasts: The President of the United States, the president of France, and Marshal Foch. Someone must respond to each toast, and the governor and the mayor would feel slighted if not given an opportunity to speak.

Sure a program may not be fatiguing for a single night, but think of having to endure it for two months, with almost all the speeches in a language that is not your own tongue!

Marshal Foch is a hero. He deserves our admiration and our sympathy.

WHITE SLAVERY

[Buffalo Express]

"We hear a lot these days about white slavery," says a speaker who ought to know. "After years of work with all classes of women and personal investigation, I do not believe there is any such thing. Women are bad because they want to be." And that's the sordid, unsentimental truth. The sooner it is faced, the quicker will conditions be improved.

Comment on the News

By HENRY JAMES

The jury that found Hightower guilty of the murder of Father Heslin, recommended that the man be given life im prison ment. The murder was most atrocious and deliberate. There were no mitigating circumstances. There were circumstances in plenty that accentuated the baseness and cruelty of the crime. Probably there was somebody on the jury who objected to capital punishment. It is not unlikely that the recommendation was made in order to get this person or faction to agree to the verdict. Nobody advocates capital punishment for any other reason than to check murder. It is not demanded as a scheme of revenge. Behind it is the thought of public safety. If life imprisonment was all that its ominous title implies, it would be approved of by the great majority of those favoring the ultimate penalty. If Hightower goes to the penitentiary, he will serve a life sentence only through the mischance of dying before his natural time. Living out his "expectation" as insurance tables say, he will spend his latter years in freedom. However, it is a little early to fret about this. His lawyers are trying to get him a new trial on technical grounds. Measured by the standards of justice, an appeal on technicality generally is without merit. Nevertheless it often is effective.

Applying for divorce a man alleges that his wife tried to shoot him because he was tardy about preparing to attend church one Sunday morning. Here is a lesson for husbands. When the wife remarks that it is time to get ready, because she does not wish to miss the opening anthem, it is a signal for the cautious male to hustle.

Many letters have been written to the public press lately on the subject of cats. It appears that with persons if a certain temperament cats are not popular. On the contrary there are other persons, perhaps equally worthy, who are ready to pamper their feline pets. The latter class of persons even permit the cats to utter discordant cries in the back yard. The situation is sad indeed, but beyond throwing things at the offending creatures (cats not persons) there is not much to be done about it. Certainly the noises of the night are not stilled by a letter of protest. There is a limit to the power of the press.

Just a few minutes after being married a wife left her husband. She said she had married him to spite her parents. Something drastic ought to be done with that type of female. To take a solemn oath with no intent of keeping it has all the criminal color of perjury. Also it argues possession of a degree of meanness quite beyond the comprehension of decent mortals.

Gambling in grain always has been condemned by people not doing it. Possibly they would gamble so if they had the opportunity. If the practise is wrong it brings its own penalty sometimes. An Omaha grain gambler has just dropped a million dollars. He has the comfort, however, of knowing that this is only one of the several millions he had picked up. Already he is said to be planning another haul. Somebody gets rich out of wheat. Perhaps this will comfort the farmer, who doesn't.

The government threatens to end the sale of the stuff that under domestic manipulation blossoms into home brew. The deprivation would not be great. Many a man who started enthusiastically on a home brew career already has abandoned it. The fact that the product rarely was fit to drink discouraged him. Then the noise of bursting bottles got on his nerves. He grew tired of the dropping in of neighbors to sample his output and frame insincere praises of its quality. He was conscious of mental weariness, too. The effort to retain in memory all the various recipes afloat was too much for him. So he quit.

A woman has been found guilty of forging the name of the late Theodore Roosevelt. For a long time there was reluctance to believe her a criminal. The act was indicative of a stupidity more dense than had been deemed possible. The theory was that somebody had taken advantage of her ignorance and posed as Roosevelt. As a method of getting to the penitentiary with swiftness, forgery probably is not to be beaten. In other respects it usually is quite futile.

MISS ADDISON IS HONOREE AT SHOWER

A shower,—no, not the kind you're thinking of, for this is a dry country, but the kind that brings fun ad happiness. Here is what really happened:

Mrs. Clark T. Christy was hostess last Saturday afternoon at a luncheon shower given at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Brice in honor of Miss Marion Addison, who is to become the bride of Joseph MacKenzie Cates on October 28th.

Miss Addison was the recipient of many beautiful gifts which were presented in a most novel maner. The door bell rang loud and long; a boy anounced quite forcefully, "Telegram for Miss Marion Addison." On opening it she read:

"If you will wend your way this Autumn day,
To the end of the pumpkin vine,
There awits a "shock," but that won't block
Our having a dandy time,
For what you will see is bound to be,
Surprising we are sure,
And we hope that the "shock" will be the kind,
That always will endure.
So follow the vine to investigate.
The bewitching shock of your life,
And discover what the goblin has
To charm a happy young wife."

Immediately proceeded to do as directed, following the vine which led to a great shock of corn with a large pumpkin at the base and guarded by a broom "witch." Inside the shock of corn was a large black box filled with gifts. One of which contained the following verse:

It always makes life sweeter,
We know it brings delight,
To eat a dainty morsel,
Or even a man size bite
Of tastily roasted chicken,
Or what not, as you can,
If you prepare the dinner,
In the aluminum roasting pan,
We can almost see your smile,
And hear his lips go smack.
As, of course, the meal will be,
For yourself and Mac.

The guests were Miss Marion Addison, Mesdames Will Knox, A. L. Graham, Thomas Addison, A. L. Goff, J. N. McGillis, John Addison, Ella Richardson, Maud Schoefifield. Harry Cates, Earl Starkey, H. F. Croft, E. Carroll, Guy Morton, E. Radcliff, Misses Ruth Morton, Waunita Emery, Josephine Knapp, Eleanor Brice; Mrs. C. P. Brice, Mrs. C. T. Christy and the hostess.

The youngest guest was Miss Virginia Lee Graham, eight weeks old. Part of the time was spent playing progressive bunko. Mrs. E. Carroll won first prize, a lovely hand-painted dish. The luncheon consisted of dainty chicken salad sandwiches, potato salad and olives, delicious home made cake with chocolate and Hallowe'en candy in pretty orange colored baskets. Cunning black cats stood at each plate as place cards.

The decorations were vases of yellow and white chrysanthemums, garlands of yellow and black, and Halowe'en cats and witches.

DR. BRUMFIELD WAS MUCH OVERWORKED

June 26, came first. Then came the jump to the day when he woke up, handcuffed to Deputy Sheriff Webb.

"Do you know who I am?" Webb asked.

"Yes, you're Percy Webb," the prisoner answered. The film cut back. The scene was Portland.

"It was some time after my breakdown. I was in Portland at a lunch counter. I didn't know who I was but it didn't worry me. The man sitting next to me was reading a paper. In it was an account of a dentist named Brumfield and a man named Russell being killed in an automobile. I never gave it much thought. I didn't associate either with myself."

Memory came to his aid again at Seattle, Brumfield said. He was in the union station there. He remembered accosting a man and calling the stranger Doc Seeley. The next scene was on a train en route to Canada. A tall, elderly Englishman was talking to him, Brumfield said. The Englishman was telling him that he must get off the train as he would not be allowed to enter Canada. The train stopped. Brumfield went to a hotel, washed and cleaned up. From his hotel window he could see a garage sign.

He remembered being in Vancouver, B. C., walking the streets, mingling with the crowds and enjoying himself. Then, he happened to see a newspaper. On the front page was his own picture and an article that accused him of the murder of Dennis Russell. The next scene was the train, where he regained full control of his senses.

The dentist dwelt on his physical and mental shortcomings. He was bothered with indigestion he said. He could not sleep well.

"When I go to bed, the bed drops down about two feet. I remain suspended in the air. I can look down and see the body of the other Brumfield lying theer on the bed. I regard it in a cool and impersonal manner, as if it were some one else," Brumfield said.

The prosecution commenced to attack the dentist through cross examination, shortly before noon today. Brumfield in answer to questions said that he had always been a sufferer from indigestion, that he lived to a great extent on milk.

CITY COUNCIL WILL GO TO RIFLE RANGE

Wdnesday afternoon at 1 o'clock Captain W. A. Loving, drillmaster and pistol instructor of the Glendale police department will take the members of the police force to the target range in Sycamore Canyon for drill. The members of the city council have been invited to the range for a try at the targets. Last week several of the city officials accompanied a squad of men from the department and Captain Loving to the range and made very good records on the pistol range. Mayor Spencer Robinson made the score of 40 out of a possible 50.

Miss Dixie Peerman of Pomona, who is an old friend of Mrs. W. H. Farrall, 550 East Palmer avenue, was her guest over Sunday. Miss Peerman is attending the University of Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McCoy of 210 North Maryland avenue, are expecting their mother and father to arrive tomorrow from Detroit.

MRS. SOUTHARD SAID TO HAVE BOASTED

TWIN FALLS. Ida., Oct. 17.—That Mrs. Lyda Southard boasted to neighbors of her secon husband, William G. McHaffie, that she had been suspicioned of poisoning her first husband, R. C. Dooley and her brother-in-law, Ed Dooley and that her father had "furnished some money right away and hushed the thing up" was the testimony given at the trial of Mrs. Southard today.

McHaffie's symptoms were almost identical with those of Edward F. Meyer, Mrs. Southard's fourth husband, for whose murder she is being tried and with those of her third husband, Harlan C. Lewis of Billings, Montana, whose death was described in detail by those who knew Lewis and his wife in Billings. Before McHaffie's death the neighbors, because of what Mrs. Southard had told them regarding the death of the Dooleys, were suspicious that Mrs. Southard intended to poison McHaffie.

The three chemists who also examined the bodies of the other alleged "victims" testified regarding the exhuming of McHaffie's body. and the finding of a large quantity of arsenic in it.

FIND SKELETON OF MISSING HUNTER

GUNNISON, Colo., Oct. 17.—The nine-year-old mystery of the disappearance of Howard Carpenter while on a hunting trip near here October 3, 1912, has been cleared up by the finding of a skeleton near the place where Carpenter was said to have disappeared.

Carpenter, prominent young business man. became separated from a hunting party in the hills near here nine years ago this month. He was never seen again.

WAR IMPOSSIBLE HOLDS JAP PRINCE

YOKOHAMA Japan, Oct. 15.—(Delayed).—Prince Tokugawa and the final contingent of Japanese representatives to the Washington conference on limitation of armaments, sailed from Yokohama today en route to Washington.

Prince Tokugawa told the United Press that he was most hopeful for the success of the conference but he could not venture a prediction as to its outcome or possible duration. The idea of war between the United States and Japan, he said, is absurd and impossible.

TRAILER THE HOUN D IS AT HOME

By JOHN BARTON

(Copyright. 1921, by The Associated Newspapers.)

Ka-flick-it, ka-flick-it, went Nibble Rabbit's furry feet back toward the barn. Not that he had any plan yet, but his mind works best when he is running. Tommy Peele was gone. So was Watch the Dog. Who knew what might happen to poor Tad Coon before he came back to help him? He might lose his hold on the willow tree and fall into the waiting jaws of the foxes beneath him. Or the wicked old owl might——

Kaflick! He stopped short. What was the use of that kind of thinking? He'd just have to get somebody else. The Red Cow? Somehow he had a feeling she'd be the very one. But she couldn't squeeze through the fence. Trailer the Hound? But Trailer had never forgiven Tad for that trick the old coon played on him. A queer beast—so serious about everything—why couldn't he take a joke? Thump, thump! The bunny stamped impatiently.

So He Began to Sing as Loudly as He Could Lisp in His Rabbity Voice.

He bit off a clover-top and turned it over in his mouth. "We-ell," he said doubtfully to himself, "I can't do any harm by asking him." So off he started. Ka-flick-it, ka-flick-it. He squirmed under the first fence, ka-flick—he sailed over the next one. And as he flew through the air an idea came to him. A glorious idea! One that made him twiddle his tufty tail because he didn't have wind left for any giggling. One that made his feet lighter than thistledown.

Yes, and Trailer was at home. Far, far away Nibble could hear him saying. "Tow-row-row! Whoo-oo-oo!" But what was he saying. "Please let me go! Please, Sandy, let me go. I smell something."

Oh, I 'spect you've guessed it before Nibble did. Trailer was tide up with a collar and chain! More hard luck for poor Tad Coon? Just listen.

If Nibble had asked him to come, Trailer would just have explained that he couldn't get away. But Nibble didn't mean to ask—he wasn't going to have the old hound telling him that his troubles just served Tad right. He didn't want any arguing. So he began to sing as loudly as he could lisp in his rabbity voice:

Drop your nose on the odorous trail
For the warmest footprints
soon grow stale,
Tow-row-row.
Leap the fences, plough through—

"Urgh! Aourgh! Uf-raough!" gurgled Trailer. This was too much for any dog to stand. Let Sandy lick him if he pleased. That was his very own hunting-song Nibble was singing. One desperate wriggle and one choke, the collar slid over his ears—he was free!

Plough through the mire,
Tow-row-row!

He took the words out of Nibble's mouth. "Who? Where? Ye-er-ow!"

Next Story: COULD NIBBLE MAKE TRAILER HELP HIM?

WILL YOUR BATH-ROOM KEEP step with progress? This is an era of unusual achievement in the development of home furnishings and equipment. In keeping with the evolution exemplified in the adoption of better lighting ideas, improved heating systems, vacuum cleaners, electrical appliances and inumerable other household conveniences, bath tubs have progressed from just bath tubs to built-in baths! The built-in bath is built in the floor and walls so that the places, which gather dust, dirt and moisture, which cause housewives so much extra work and worry, no longer exist! It is a bath that water cannot splash back of nor under. The GLENDALE PLUMBING CO., 134 S. Orange street, is offering this bath at a popular price—a price so low that the majority of builders can avail themselves of it. And after all, the bathroom is the center of home comfort and health! Money cannot be invested to better advantage than in a sure source of health and convenience to the entire household! The bathroom with the built-in bath represents the highest sanitary efficiency! But a few years ago, in the early stages of their development, the enameled built-in bath was looked upon as a novelty, but it has so well established itself that it i snow a part of every bathroom of the thoroughly modern home!

"PURE AS GOLD"—YES, AND IT'S TRUE! For the unprecedented popularity of Quality Doughnuts is due, entirely to the fact that they are made of only the purest and most wholesome ingredients and by the latest approved sanitary methods. Call 220-J the QUALITY DOUGHNUT SHOP, 104 West California avenue, for these doughnuts that truly "melt in your mouth!"

REALLY, YOU CAN'T IMAGINE what a difference a few cans of paint or varnish will make in your home! STEVENS' PAINT STORE at 219½ East Broadway, carries a full line of Patton's paints and varnishes—and, you know, there are none better! Patton's Pitcairn water span varnish for hard use is just the thing—for water and exposure don't have the slightest ill-effect on it. And even through the cruel boiling test the water span will retain its original lustre. Then there's the Pitcairn Sole-Proof Varnish for woodwork, floor or furniture. Mr. Stevens will be glad to give you any information you may wish about paint and varnish.

THE MOST UNIQUE YET WITHAL the most practical heater that I have seen in my journeyings, is the new Electric-Steam heater, at the JEWEL ELECTRIC CO., 200 East Broadway! It's appearance is that of a modest steam or gas radiator, and it is made in two, five, six, seven, or eight units—which ever you prefer! But, the interesting feature is the fact that after the steam has been electrically generated there is, what is called an automatic cut-off, which instantly shuts off the current at a certain pressure. And, again, the moment the heat goes below that specified degree, it is automatically "switched on"—thus retaining at all times an even temperature! Steam heat furnished electrically is the most convenient way, for more reasons than one. It is the safest way, and so much more sanitary than the hitherto accepted methods! Stop in at the Jewel Electric Co. and ask to see this latest innovation—and also the Electric Steam Glue pots, which they are showing this week. You will find them as well as the Electric Automatic Vulcanizer for automobile tubes of unusual interest!

IS YOUR "LITTLE MAN" "HARD" on shoes? Of course, and that's because you didn't know about ZITE-LEEN'S playshoes for children! They are made of best quality California tanned leather, and the soles are Goodyear welts! You'll find that they wear ever so much better than the ordinary boy's shoes—and too, they are so much easier to repair! There's no danger of them injuring the little feet either, for there are no nails in these shoes of Zite-Leen's! Stop in at his shop, 140 North Brand boulevard, and see them for yourself!

SERVICE AND SATISFACTION IS the keynote of Mr. O'Neill's success at the EUREKA SHOE SHOP, 208½ East Broadway. Anyone who has at one time or another had him repair their old and worn shoes will tell you that his workmanship is excellent and, though he uses only the very finest of materials, his prices are exceptionally reasonable! He also has a complete stock of mens' and boys' work and dress shoes—shoes that are the best that money can buy, but at prices that put them well within the reach of everyone!

MRS. WALCOTT JUST DELIGHTS in making milady beautiful for the dinner or dance! And this morning, when I visited her shop at 136 South Brand boulevard, she had—oh! such glad tidings for me! Yes, indeed, and though it is a secret, I can't help but tell you! It was only last Saturday that Mrs. Walcott journeyed to the city to select quite the most beautiful combs I've ever seen! They have the loveliest jewell effects in the desired colors for evening wear. Her stock will embrace all of the most attractive and popular designs—so don't miss the first showing! Then, too, WALCOTT'S BEAUTY SHOP is holding a sale of fine hair goods—one-third off on everything—and it is all absolutely first quality, natural cut hair!

The Fancy Bakery, you see, specializes on cream pies, and there are none other like them, save those which Mother herself makes! There were lemon, cocoanut, and banana cream to tempt the Saturday shopper! And wait till I've told you just a word about how they are made! Mr. Walmas uses only the freshest and best of materials—sweet Glendale Creamery milk, fresh eggs and cane sugar! And, instead of using the plain lemon extract, as many shops do, Mr. Walmas uses the pure lemon juice and the grated rind of the lemon to flavor his lemon pies! And I know you will enjoy the banana pies, made of fresh sliced fruits! The part that I most enjoy about a pie is—the meringue—and pies at the Fancy Bakery boast a heaping cover of whites of eggs, sweetened and browned just right! You can't afford to make them at home, using the best of ingredients as they do, for the price which the Fancy Bakery sells their pies—25c each!

Eighty Years of Age, Rides Bicycle Daily

Regardless of the fact that he is nearly eighty years a resident on this old terra firma, George T. Anschutz, of Washington Court House, Ohio, is still an enthusiastic bicycle rider and issues a challenge to race any man of his age in America, barring none. He was born in Baltimore, Md., and recalls seeing troops on their way to the Mexican war. He is as fit as a fiddle, uses his bicycle every day and has been using the same wheel for twenty years. "I haven't an ache, pain, uebt or anxiety," is the way Anschutz expresses his wonderful vitality and personality.

TUJUNGA PLANS TO INCORPORATE SOON

TUJUNGA, Oct. 17.—The committee on incorporation of Tujunga met Saturday afternoon at the clubhouse. It was decided that the full report of the activities of the committee appointed to ascertain the ways and means of procedure in the matter of incorporating the city of Tujunga would be given at the regular meeting of the chamber of commerce Tuesday. The sub-committee on defining boundary lines of the city under the incorporation plans has already made a separate report and this will be incorporated in the report. NEAR TRAGEDY IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Yesterday afternoon while motoring on the road to Sunland, an auto occupied by Mrs. John Ireland, her grand-daughter, Hope Ireland. James Culver, who was driving, and Mrs. Culver, was running by another automobile. Mrs. Culver was thrown out, Mrs. Ireland was thrown over the back of the seat, Mr. Culver and Miss Ireland escaping without physical injury. All members of the party are this morning suffering from shock but came out of the experience without serious injury.
The offending motorist, whose name they did not take, was trying to pass a truck and did not see the other car until too late to avoid collision. He attributed the accident in part to his own fright and loss of presence of mind, and was not blamed by the damaged parties.

STRIKE SNAG TODAY IN KLAN INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The house rules committee's hearing on the Ku Klux Klan came near an abrupt and turbulent termination today when Imperial Wizard William Joseph Simmons charged on the stand that Representative Campbell, chairman of the committee, had ridiculed Simmons' collapse before the committee last Thursday as a "cheap theatrical performance." Campbell jumped to his feet and branded the statement as "grossly untrue," declaring "this hearing will stop right here if that sort of thing is your defense."

Foley's Friendly Fancies

REVERIE

Home?—A modest cottage where
Roses bank above, and fair
With the peace of hearts that twine
Quite together;—Yours and mine.
Just a simple rug and small
With a picture on the wall
And a cosy table where
You sit by me, you, so fair!

Joy?—To know that you await
When I swing the ivied gate,
And to think your heart beats, too,
Faster as I'm nearing you
Down the bordered walk, the while
You await me with a smile,
Put your arms about me then,
Kiss me once—twice,—and again.

Rest? To sit by you and seem
To be bidden muse and dream
If the days to be can bless
Me with much of happiness
As the days that are and were;—
Just to hold your hand, nor stir
Lest the spell of it shall break
And the dreamers both awake.

Happiness?—To sit by you
Quite alone, as lovers do,
Brave and strong as man can be
From your faith and trust in me,
And to feel the tears that start
From my overflowing heart
To my eyes—Love's very dew
On the souls of me and you.

Now the soul of Raphael
Lights the picture and the spell
Of all Araby and more
Tints the rug upon the floor,
While the room glows with such light
As a great cathedral might,
From the glorious love-light there—
And you by me, you, so fair!
